A Laughable Mistake--Kissing the Wrong Passenger.

The other day, while a crowded train was stopping at a station near Lorain, Illinois, a handsomely dressed and charmingly-pretty young lady sprang from the platform to the deck of one of the cars, and casting her glance, like an evanescent sunbeam, down the double row of passengers in the vehicle, suddenly fixed it, with an exclamation of delight, upon a good looking but rather shame-faced young man, who sat beside a handsome girl, apparently his bride, near the middle of the car. No sooner had he blushed beneath the very affectionate gaze of the gushing young creature aforesaid, than she sprang to his side and half choked him in the embrace of her delicious white arms, exclaiming, as she imprinted a warm kiss on his lightly-feathered lip: "Why, Fred, how do you do? And is this the dear little wife" you wrote to us about?" The "dear little wife" seemed to think this was coming it rather strong, and the way her eyes flashed was a caution to thunder clouds. As for "Fred" he probably underwent more agony than ever before mocked the happiness of a man encircled by pretty arms. The kissing lady was not to be put off by the coolness of her reception, however; but again kissed the bridegroom, as she hurriedly asked: "But why don't you get off the train? Don't you know you've got home?" The expression of wild dispair that overspread the young man's face at this climax, and the condensed fury of his bridal partner's glance at the curly head of her unexpected rival, were too much for the passengers. Everybody saw that there was "some mistake," and a laugh "went up from the assemblage" that made the car-windows and doors leap in their sockets. For the first time, the pretty young discoverer of "Fred" seemed to notice that she was attracting attention, and, from a look of startled bewilderment, she suddenly burst into an April shower of tears, dropping her nose upon the agonized traveler's bosom-pin, and sobbing out:

"O Fred! what does all this mean? Have you really forgotten me?"

This was piling on the agony with unmitigated steepnes, and an "impending crisis" was distinctly visible to the naked eye. The bride commenced drawing off one glove, the "local" of the Lorain News, who was on board, franatically tore his note-book, and had already written "Mysterious Affair" in a heading, when the terrified young man managed to stammer:

"Re-really, madam, you are mistaken in the person. My name isn't "Fred"—and I live in Chicago!"

The effect of this overwhelning denouement may be easily imagined. Everybody saw "the point" at once. The young lady hastily raised her head from the young man's shoulder, and as she more closely scrutinized the features of her "late relative," a beautiful smile broke through her tears, like a beam of sunset blushing through the misty veil of a yielding storm(!) Shaking back her curls, she said: "Why, I do believe I have made a mistake." And the laugh came in. The "mystery" was soon explained: The affectionate girl was expecting her "her brother Fred" home from California by that train, and the victimized (!) youth's resemblance to her auriferous relative led to the mistake. Though somewhat disappointed, of course, the young lady took the matter gayly, and went laughing from the car, amid the irrepressible applause of all parties. The anguished bride, too, drew back the lower edge of her glove—and as the cars moved off, she was seen to smile upon the abashed youth whom she had selected to buy new bonnets and thingumies for her. Having recovered from his sympathetic excitement, the "local" of the Lorain News remembered the kisses so ingeniously bestowed upon the supposed Fred, and immediately experienced pangs of the most acute dispair because the young lady had not mistaken him for the expected brother! The "local" ought to be ashamed of himself, inasmuch as he is a married man, and can be kissed by his wife at a moment's notice!

As a Decon A—, on an extremely cold morning in old times, was riding by the house of his neighbor B—, the latter was chopping wood. The usual salutions were exchanged, the severity of the weather briefly discussed, and the horseman made demonstrations of passing on, when his neighor detained him with, "Don't be in a hurry, Deacon. Wouldn't you like a glass of old Jamaica, this morning!" Thank you, kindly," said the old gentleman, at the same time beginning to dismount with all the deliberation becoming a Deacon, "I don't care if I do." "Ah, don't trouble yourself to get off, Deacon," said the neighbor, "I merely asked for information. We haven't a drop in the house."

FAST men, like fast rivers, are generally shallow.

Old Women and Juvenile Manners.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Times, who calls "Invisible Green,,, is responsible for the following:

It was after we had been conveyed by steam and rail to the depot of the Baltimore road, and were impatiently awaiting the signal for departure, that my attention was directed to a fair specimen of a numerous class of ladies in the Eastern States. She was a woman of thirty-five or forty years of age, the mother of I don't know how many children, but two were with her. Her dress indicated plenty of cash. A small spaniel was crouched at her feet, and seemed more of a favorite than her children. She had joined us somewhere up the Deleware, was going beyond Philadelphia, and, as I judged from her actions, expected to meet some one at the Philadelphia depot. She said:

"Why don't dey tum? I lookee an' lookee an' dey don't tum. Poly, dear, (to the dog) why don't dey tum?"

The dog answered with a wag of his tail, and she peered through the window, first one and then another. Finally, she joyously exclaimed:

"Oh, dar's Harree, Poly, dear, (to the dog;)they've tum they've tum."

Then rapping on the car window, to tract "Harree's attention, she sang out, in a delicate, squeaking tone:

"Harree, I'm here; don't you hear me, Harree?"

Harry, who was a fashionably dressed young man, did not hear, however; so she bid "Poly, dear" to lie down, and then, with a sort of school-girl prance, tripped along to the door, and called him againand again, until she attracted his attention. Harry was glad to see her—had been looking for her—told her that Lilly was in the other car, and offered to conduct her to Lilly, or Lilly to her.

"I'll tum to Lilly," she said. "Bless the dear, is she well. You take de children, an' I'll take Polly, dear Harry."

Then she pranced back to her seat, affectionally took the dog in her arms, and pranced off to the other car. Now her mode of speech and her style of carriage was all affected to appear young. "Baby talk," she supposes, aids her materially in the falsehood, and her girlish prance confirmed it. Though, as I stated; she is probably forty years of age, she is willing to add that she has never seen twenty-five, and if she has children whose appearance will contradict the story, they are far away at boarding-school, and are permitted to visit home seldom. I say this class of silly women are very numerous in the East, particularly in the vicinity of Philadelphia and New York. You can hear "baby talk" in every species of respectable conveyance, and very often be diverted with girlish gait. They are the most miserable of mothers, and generally produce children who are not creditable to their name, and are useless in the world.

BEAUTIFUL HOMES.—True, sorrow will enter even such places, as the worm enters the rose; it is our inevitable lot; but the burden of it can be lightened by means, and a thousand compensating delights will flutter ever about us. Man may dispense with such trifles, as he deems them, but to woman, whose whole existence is passed within those walls, and whose mission is confined to the small circle of home, they are indispensible. Much of the domestic unhappiness which curses this State, is no doubt attributed to the unloveliness of our homes. What incentive to cheerfulness, to contentment, to purity, is there in the sandy bleakness which surrounds most California homes? How the woman's eyes must rest on the fair blue hills and stately pines at a distance, and how inevitably she must sigh, and call her life a weary round of servitude. It is the meanest selfishness and tyranny to inflict such desolution upon her, and the husband who does it should not wonder if his home ceases to be the pleasantest place on earth.—Hydraulic Press.

A member of the Mississippi Legislature at a session held some years since, introduced a bill to change the name of a certain county in that State to Cass county. One of the opposition moved as amendment, that the letter C be stricken out of the proposed name. This motion created some laughter at the expense of the member offering. Nothing daunted, however, he arose in reply and said, "Mr. Speaker, this is the first instance that has come to my knowledge in which a member has had the assurance, upon the floor of any Legislature, to propose to name a county after himself

A truly grateful heart may not be able to tell its gratitude, but it can feel, and love, and act.

MEN take less care of their conscience than their reputation.

A story is told of a very eminent lawyer in a certain city receiving a severe reprimand from a witness on the stand whom he was trying to brow-beat. It was an important issue, and in order to save his cause from defeat it was neccessary that Mr. A—should impeach the witness. He endeavord to do it on the ground of age. The following dialogue ensued: Lawyer—How old are you? Witness—Seventy-two years. Lawyer—Your memory, of course, is not so briliant and vivid as it was twenty years ago, is it? Witness—I do no not know but it is. Lawyer—State some circumstence which occured, say twelve years ago, and we shall be able to see how well you can remember. Witness—I appeal to your honor if I am to be interrogated in this manner; it is insolent. Judge—You had better answer the question. Lawyer—Yes, sir; state it. Witness—Well, sir, if you compel me to do it, I will. About twelve years ago you studied in Judge P—'s office, did you not? Lawyer—Yes. Witness—Well, sir, I remember your father coming into my office and saying to me, "Mr. D—, my son is to be examined to-morrow, and I wish you would lend me fifteen dollars to buy him a suit of clothes." I remember also, sir, that from that day to this he has never paid me that sum. That, sir, I remember as though it was but yesterday. Lawyer (considerably abashed)—That will do, sir. Witness—I presume it will.

THE following admirable production, delivered before a company of volunteer soldiers during the revolutionary struggle, upon the eve of their going to "glorious war," was calculated to inspire them with more than Herculean courage Mine frients: Ven virst you comed here you vas poor and lousy, and now, mine frients, you is proud and sassy, and yous gotten on your unicorns, and dem vit you like doings upon a hog's pack; now, mine frients, let me tell you dis, a man is a man if he no pigger as my dumb. Ven Tavid went out to vite mit Goliah, he took noting mit him but one sling; now don't mistaken me, mine frients; it was not a rum sling no, nor a gin sling; no, nir a mint vater sling; no, it was a sling made mit a hickory stick. Now ven dis Gohliah sees Tavid coming, he says, "You von little scundrel, does you come to vite me? I vill give you the birds of the fielt and de beasts of air." Tavid says, "Goliah, Goliah, de race ish not always mit de shwift, nor ish de battle mit de strong, and a man is a man if he ish no pigger as my dumb." So Tavid he fixed a shtone in his sling, and drows it at Goliah, and knocks him rite in de voreheat, and Tavid takes Goliah's sword cut off his heat—and den all de purty cals of de shiddy comes out and shtrewd flowers in his way and sung, "Saul ish a great man, for he has kilt his thousands, but Tavid is greater as he, for he has kilt Goliah."

A GENTLEMAN having gone to a crowded public meeting, could only find standing room in one of the entrances, when his vision—like that of those about him—was sorely obstructed by a person wearing his hat. Though asked not to do so, again and again, he refused to uncover; when the one alluded to said, "Don't trouble him any further; he looked out for a peg, and has put his hat on the only one he could find." The hat was instantly removed.

A cook expected company, and was at a loss how to entertain her friends. Her mistress: "Chloe, you must make an apology."

"La! missus, how can I make it! I got no apples, ne eggs, no butter, no nuffin to make it wid."

"GENTLEMEN," said a tavern-keeper to his guests, at midnight, "I don't know whether you have talked enough or not, but as for myself I am going to shut up."

"I know I am a perfect bear in my manners," said a young farmer to his sweetheart. "No, indeed you are not, John; you have never hugged me yet. You are more sheep than bear."

"SAM, why am Senetors like de fishes?"

"I don't meddle with de subjec', Pomp."

Why, don't you see, nigga, dey am so fond of de-bate."

KNIGHT'S LANDING NEWS.

OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER.

SATURDAY, JUNE 16TH, 1860.

Exported.

During the present week 200 tons of Barley and 90 tons of Wheat were shipped from this place to Sacramento, notwithstanding the harvest of Cereals in this vicinity has barely commenced.—From the present prices we much fear the farmers will not be able to realize more than a mere nominal remuneration for their hard toils. It appears to be the fate of hard working farmers in this county to suffer either an entire failure of Crops—or to have such an abundance as to make the same of little value in the markets.

---

We would most earnestly call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of John W. Snowball in regard to the appropriation for the Bridge across the Sycamore Slough. We do not wish to make any remark upon the measure, its merits or de-merits are too patent to deserve any comment whatever. "Comprehenderit qui Coquiretque."

---

Fire.—On Wednesday last between one and two o'clock, the residence of Calvin Miller about half a mile north of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church was destroyed by fire. Loss about $1,000.

---

Hoy's Minstrels.—Last night we were highly entertained with the performance which was givgn at the new Hall, by Hoy's Minstrel's, consisting of the following talented artists, Lew. Ratler, Tom King, Frank James, Master Sprague, E. Townsend, Thos. C. Purdom, L. Myers, Charles Hoy, Francis Madeline and J. F. A. Piekering; also, Johnny Little the traveling Agent, who by the way is a typo and we hope our cotemporaries will put him through. The performance is decidedly the best one that as ever been given in this town. We recommend them to our Cacheville frieuds were they will perform this evening.

---

S. F. & M. Railrod.—We are under obligations to D. C. Haskin Esq. for a pamphlet form of the reports of the Board of Directors and Chief Engineer of the San Francisco and Marysville Railroad Company at the last annual meeting of stockholders, together with a map showing the various railroad routes in the State, projected, or in progress.

---

A copy of the June number of the California Culturist is lying upon our table. We were rejoiced to see on opening it that Wilson Flint is associated with W. Wadsworth, as a co-editor. Mr. W. Flint's talents and abilities as a truly scientific farmer are too well known throughout the State to require any flattering ecomiums from us—to apprize the people generally that an abler and better periodical of like character cannot be found in America.

---

We have upon our table a copy of the June number of the Hesperian edited by Mrs F. H. Day, published in San Francisco, a most superbly, neat and interesting periodical. It should be among the household Gods of every family in the State.

---

Robbery of Wells, Fargo & Co,s Express.—The Shasta stage was stopped on Saturday last, when seven miles below Chico, by five highwaymen, and Wells, Fargo & Co's express robbed of $16,000. The Company offer $7,000 for the money and $5,000 for the arrest and conviction of the robbers.

---

Sheep.—Twenty.five hundred Mexican sheep, arrived in this county on Wednesday last, they are owned by Coyle & McNulty, and were brought from Southern California.

---

Henry Meridith's Remains.—The Union learns that the body of Henry Meredith is now on the way to Nevada, and that the funeral services would take place in that city yesterday, June 15th.

---

The San Francisco Washoe Relief Committee has sent $2,000 to Was hoe for the use of the volunteers, and have on hand $2,017 50, subject to Col. Hay's draft.

---

Higley's Surveying Expedimion—This party of engineers and assistants left Sacramento on Wednesday afternoon last, on their journey to Lake Bigler.

---

The Washington Monument fund received $125 last week, at the San Francisco Post office.

A Hint to Our Supervisors.

There is nothing more essentially requisite for the full and complete prosperity of a county, State or Nation, than the strictest and most rigid economy, in the expenditure of every department of the government of the same.

Extravagance and the needless waste of the peoples money, by those in power, is generally looked upon by the honest yeomanry of the country as little less obnoxious and reprehensible than downright dishonesty.

And right here in connection with the foregoing, we would say, that, the policy of the Board of Supervisors in each and every county is none the less of the utmost importance to the citizens thereof. For under their rule or misrule does the prosperity of the county flourish, or its interests recede and become "lost sight of." The present Board of Supervisors of Yolo county, so far, do not deserve the appellation of either extravagant or "unsound" in their scrupulous and rigid investigations into every measure that has been heretofore brought before their notice.—Some of those whose interests were by them defeated may have thought them more nice than wise, yet, let their several actions be taken and weighed in the scales of justice and equity, and there is none who has the effrontery to question for a moment the just and due propriety of the same.

And as they have started out with what appears to all as a just sense of the great responsibility they are under to their constituency, we may reasonably conclude a priori that they will (for consistency's sake) endeavor to make "retrenchment and reform" their motto through their official career.

We are led into the above remarks from the fact that it has been vaguely hinted to us that certain parties in different parts of the county were going, at no very distant day, hence, to apply to said Supervisors for "bonuses" in the furtherance of some pet schemes that would redound to the benefit of a few individuals at the expense of the whole county, leaving no equivalent whatever tantamount thereto.

It would be a benefit of no little magnitude to get $2,000 or $3,000 appropriations for bridges or something of similar character, after which to get a charter from the Legislature for a toll road or something of the kind by which the utility of said appropriation would be applied directly to interested party's use, sapientibus est verbum sat.

Arrival of the Overland Mail !

Dates to the 24th May.

From the Telegraphic Report of the Union.

Telegraph Camp No. 21, near Visalia June 12th, 1860.

The Overland Mail with St. Louis dates to May 24th, arrived here at half past seven o'clock P. M.

Arrival of Overland Mail and Pony Express.

St. Louis, May 24th.—The Overland Mail, with dates from San Francisco to the 30th of April, arrived on May 22d.

The Pony Express which left San Francisco May 11th, arrived on the 21st. A rider was killed by the Indians on the California end. The mail and dispatches were saved.

Congressional.

The Pacific Overland Bill was taken up in the House, but passed over without anything being done.

In the Senate, Mr. Gwin introduced a bill to grant the alternate sections of land to California for railroad purposes.

On motion of Mr. Hale, the Overland Mail Bill was made the special order for Thursday, May 24th.

On motion of Mr. Curtis, in the House, the Pacific Railroad Bill was made the special order on and after Thursday, the 24th.

The House resumed the consideration of the Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Bill.

Mr. Colfax, of Indiana, explaned the amendment which the Committee on Post offices proposed.

The Government is to pay $40,000 per year for messages; the public to be charged three dollars for ten words. If the corporators do not accept these terms within thirty days, then sealed proposals are to be invited, and the contract is to be given to the lowest responsible bidder. The line to be built within two years.

Mr. Colfax earnestly urged the passage of the bill, showing the great advantages which will result to the Government.

Mr. Burnet, of Kentucky, opposed the bill as creating an oppressive monopoly.

Republican Nominations for the Presidency and Vice Presidency.

Visalia, June 10th.

The Overland Mail arrived here this morning at three o'clock.

St. Louis, May 21st.—The National Republican Convention have nominated Abraham Lincoln, of Illinois, for President, and Hannibal Hamlin, of Maine, for Vice President.

Arrival of Mails and Pony Express.

The Overland Mail of April 27th arrived at Springfield last night.

The Pony Express of May 5th arrived May 19th.

The Ocean Mails of April 30th arrived at New York May 10th.

Proceedings of the National Republican Convention.

Thursday, May 17.—The portrait of Broderick, drapped in mourning, held a conspicuous place in the hall.

The hall was entirely filled.

An immense crowd was unable to enter.

The Committee reported that no seats were contested.

A warm debate ensued relative to the vote that each slave State should be entitled to, there being no regular Republican organization.

Mr. Wilmot, moved to refer the matter back to the Committee to decide what vote they should be entitled to. Finally the whole was recommitted by a vote of 275½ to 171½.

The Steward men were understood to to vote in the negative.

Adjourned.

In the afternoon the Committee reported the number of votes that each Southern State should have. Adopted with applause.

A rule was adopted requiring only a majority of the votes cast as necessary to nominate. Carried by a vote of 331 to 130—no more votes to be cast than delegates present.

Friday, May 18th.—The wigwam was densely packed.

Arrangements were made to pass the ballots through the skylight in the roof.

Delegates marched in procession to the Hall, and speakers addressed the crowd from different stands.

Before balloting, Blair of Maryland tried to get five more votes allowed his State, but failed.

Candidates were then nominated for Presidency.

Everts named Seward.

Blair named Bates.

Fremont was not named.

Delano, of Ohio, desired another nomination of a man who can split rails and maul Democrats; Abraham Lincoln.

First ballot: Seward, of New York, 173½: Lincoln, of Illinois, 102: Bates, of Missouri, 48: Cameron, of Pennsylvania, 50½; McLean, of Ohio, 13; Chase, of Ohio, 49; Dayton, of New Jersey, 14; Collamer, of Vermont, 10; and six scattering. Whole number, 465; necessary to a choice, 233.

Second ballot: Seward, 184½; Lincoln, 181; Bates, 35; McLean, 8; Chase; 42½; Cameron, 2; Dayton, 10; Cassius M. Clay, 2.

No choice.

On the third ballot the feeling was intense. Rhode Island, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Kentucky, Ohio, and Oregon, changed in favor of Lincoln, giving him 231½ votes, which was within 1½ of a nomination.

Andrews changed the vote of Massachusetts, giving four more to Lincoln, which nominated him by 2½ majority.

The intelligence was conveyed through the skylight. The news spread and cannon roared.

The portrait of Lincoln was carried into the hall, and the scene beggars description. Eleven thousand people were inside, and twenty thousand outside, yelland shouting.

Several States had permission to change their votes. The result was then announced.

Third ballot: Lincoln, 354; Seward, 101½; Dayton, 1; McLean, ½.

The nomination was made unanimous, and several enthusiastic speeches were made.

Andrews pledged Massachusetts for one hundred thousand majority.

Adjourned till five o'clock.

On reassembling at five o'clock P. M., the Convention proceeded to ballot for Vice President.

First ballot: Hamblin, of Main, 194; Clay, of Kentucky, 101½; Hickman, of Pennsylvania, 18½; H. Winter Davis of Maryland, 8; Houston, of Texas, 6; Dayton, of New Jersey, 3; Reed, of Pennsylvania, 1.

Second ballot; Hamblin, 367; Clay, 86; Hickman, 13.

Then omination of Hannibal Hamlin, of Maine, was made unanimous—immense applause.

The Defaulting Postmaster.

George Law and G. A. Conover state that they are bondsmen of Isaac V. Fowler, late Postmaster of New York, to the amount only of $75,000, and say they cannot be held for the amount of deficit commenced before they became responsible

Fowler dissappeared on Saturday, and has not since been heard of, though Marshall Rynders has arranged for his arrest.

Several are of opinion that the money has been loaned to political effect!

Guthrie, General Agent for the Treasury Department, took charge of the Post Office till the appointment of a successor.

The Solicitor of the Treasury visited New York, and with the United States District Attorney commenced proceedings against the bondsmen.

The California Culturist says: "Mr. D. Hogg, of Mayfield, Santa Clara county, has a venerable cow of the age of thirteen months; nothing remarkable is this, only that, at that age, she is but two feet nine inches in height, and is now suckling her own calf, a very pretty little specimen, and healthy.

Arrival of the Golden Gate.—The steamer Golden Gate from Panama, with the mails and passengers from New York, arrived Tuesday evening last at San Francisco, about 5 o,clock.

NOTICE.

Knight's Landing, June 15, 1860.

Editor Knight's Landing News:

I wish to call the attention of the Citizens of the County, and also the Honorable the Board of Supervisors as their Representatives. To an effort being made by certain parties interested, to have an appropriation made to build a Bridge across Sycamore Slough on the road leading to Smith's Ferry, on the Sacramento River. Now there are several good and weighty reasons why the County should not engage in such an Enterprise. In the first place; the sum required to build this structure, for which the Road Overseer has drawn a plan and specification will cost from Fifteen Hundred to Two Thousand Dollars, which is too large an outlay of the Funds on a road of so little importance to the great majority of the people of the County, and which can only at best be traveled from six to seven months in the year. The Slough being the draining medium of that large Tule lying between Cache Creek and Grand Island, and the banks of which in high water are submerged from two to ten feet at the point where the contemplated Bridge is to be built. The effect of which would be to wash away the Bridge entirely, or cause a yearly outlay of from two to five hundred dollars, to keep it in repair, for once let the County expend the sum necessary to build this Bridge, and she would be compelled to expend ten times the sum in yearly instalments to keep it up, or else pass it into the hands of private individuals for a toll Bridge.

In looking back we fine this road has been traveled during the summer season for five years, and the owners of the Ferry (which really are the only parties interrested) have always when the waters subsided in the spring of the year erected a temporary structure of logs and poles at the cost of about $50, which has answered the purposes required, fully as well as a Two Thousand Dollar Bridge would. Last year however, if I am rightly informed the County appropriated out of the Road, Labor and Monies, a small amount say $40 or $50 to reimburse these parties, which probably coming so gracefully, caused them to look upon the Yolo County Treasury as an institution to be tapped at pleasure, the amount apparently not taken into consideration.

I am informed a petition was last year presented to the Board to appropriate about Fifteen Hundred Dollars to enable the citizens of that locality to build a Free Turnpike on the great thoroughfare between Cache Creek settlement and Sacramento City, which the Board refused to grant, on the ground, the sum was too large for a local purpose which did not benefit all the Citizens of the County alike, I submit how much more local is this Sycamore Slough Bridge matter.

In conclusion, Mr. Editor, I presume no one doubts but the traveling public will be accommodated with a sufficient crossing to Sycamore Slough, whether the Board appropriate a dollar for this purpose or not.

I therefore protest against the County Treasury being made a Medium to enable parties to more successfully compete with their legitimate neighbours, for if I cannot conduct a Ferry without calling on the County for relief, either to build me a New Bridge or a New Ferry Boat, Why!! I'll quit or sell out to some one that can.

Respectfully, Your ob't servant,
JOHN W. SNOWBALL.

State of California, County of Yolo, ss.—I, BABETTA DRUKE, wife of George Druke, hereby make known and declare her intentions henceforth to do business in her own name, and on her own account, in said county as sole trader, under the Statute in such cases made and provided: and she further declares and makes known, that the business which she intends to conduct and carry on as aforesaid, is that of farming, stock raising, buying and selling stock, etc., and the amount of capital invested in said business, does not exceed Five Thousand Dollars; and she the said Babetta Druke further declares that henceforth she will be individually responsible, in her own name, for all debts contracted by her, made on account of said business, and that she will in all cases abide by and be subject to the provisions of the Act to authorize married women to transact business in their own name as sole traders, passed on April 12th, 1852, and all amendments thereunto.

Dated Yoly County, June 11th, A.D., 1860.

BABETTA DRUKE, [seal]

State of California, County of Yolo, ss.—On this 11th day of June, A.D., 1860, before me, J. T. Daly, County Clerk, in and for the said County, personally appeared Babetta Druke, wife of George Druke (proved to me to be such by the oath of W. H. Cook, a credible witness by me sworn for that purpose) and declared and acknowledged to me, that she executed the foregoing declaration as sole trader freely and voluntarily, and for the purpose therein mentioned, without fear or compulsion of her said husband, (she having been by me examined separate and apart from her husband,) and that she does not wish to retract the execution of the same.

{ SEAL } In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and official seal, the day and year above written.

PONY EXPRESS.—The Territorial Enterprise of June 2nd. is informed by Thomas Flynn the rider of the Pony Express from Genoa to the sink of Carson, who came in on Thursday night, that the last Pony Express going East was turned back at Dry Creek, two hundred and fifty miles east of here. No word there had been heard of the Express coming from the East. Six Pike's Peakers found the body of the station keeper horribly mutilated, and all the animals missing at Simpson's Park, as reported last week. Hamilton and Ruffin with others of the Pony Express, took the stock from Smith's Creek, and camped at night at Cold Springs; Ruffin and Hamilton, while on guard, were fired on by the Indians. The whole party upon hearing the shots, saddled up and moved off. They, in moving, overtook some emigrants with three thousand sheep; some forty men were with the sheep train. That party is now safe at Miller's Station. Josephus, a friendly Pah-Ute, who has been in the employ of the Pony Express Company, advised Flynn to leave with his stock from the Sink of Carson immediately. He heeded the warning, and attributes his safety to that fact.

THE FORREST CASE—FINAL DECREE—FORREST vs. FORREST.—This case, which has occupied public attention for the last ten years, is near termination. The counsel attended before the judge this morning for the purpose of settling the final order. The order, as proposed by Mr. O'Conor, recites the decree of divorce and the legal steps already taken. It allows Mrs. Forrest alimony of $4,000 a year, dating from the 19th of November, 1850, and then provides for arrearages due upon such allowance, which, with interest, amounts to $47,716 47. This sum is to be paid into the United States Life and Trust Company, within 30 days after the settlement of the order. The arrearges and future allowance which is to be paid quarterly, to be secured by depositing with the same company the mortgage held by Mr. Forrest upon the Fonthill estate or other adequate security. Mr. Van Buren proposed amending the order by deducting the interest upon the arrearages, which would lessen the sum about $10,000, and also giving Mr. Forrest 90 instead of 30 days to deposit the amount and mortgage in the Trust Company. The judge took the paper and reserved his decision. For plaintiff Charles O'Conor and Mr. Chase; for defendant, John Van Buren and James T. Brady.—N. Y. Post 16th May.

M. GATES, of New York, has made during the last eighteen years, about 6,455,000,000 matches, using 1,250,000 feet of lumber. He now makes 2,750,000 matches daily, making use of five hundred feet of lumber. He uses five pounds of phosphorus daily, which is about the amount found in the bones of a single horse. He has thus used up the skeletons of two thousand three hundred horses.

CHARLIE AND HIS DOG.—A good dog is one of the best guardians of boy-hood. He seems to have an instructive sense of any perils approaching his young wards, and will sacrifice his own life to save them. The following story of the boy-hood of Admiral Napier will interest many of our young readers, and may perhaps suggest to them that they have neglected to thank God, when they have escaped from great danger.

Some years since, a little boy, named Charlie, had a large favorite dog, that was his constant companion in play hours. This dog, whom we shall call Rover, was a fine, respectable looking animal, with one of the best of tempers. He never quarrelled with other dogs, and would let the merry, impertinent little Carlo frisk about his heels, without being in the least offended. How I wish all boys were like him in this respect.

Rover was very fond of the water, and in hot weather he used to swim across the river near which Charlie lived. One day, Charlie tied a string to his dog's collar, and ran down with him to the water's edge. Then he took off his clothes, and holding hard by the dog's neck and the bit of string, he went into the river and Rover pulled him across. After playing about on the other side, they returned in the way they had come; but when Charlie looked for his clothes, he could find nothing but his shoes—the wind had blown all the rest into the water.

Rover saw what had happened, and making his little master let go the string he dashed into the river, and first brought out his coat, and then all the rest in succession. Charlie dressed and went home in his wet things, and told his mother what fun he and Rover had had. His mother told him he had done very wrong in going across the river as he had done, and that he should thank God for making the dog take him over and back in safety; for if Rover had made him let go in the river, he would most likely have sunk, and been drowned.

"Shall I thank God now, mamma?" said little Charlie, and he kneeled down at his mother's knee, and thanked God. Then, getting up again, he threw his arms around Rover's neck, saying, "I thank you, too, dear doggie, for not letting go."

Little Charlie lived to grow up to be a man, and afterwards became Admiral Sir Charles Napier.
